

Architects envision more attractive Minden

Study gives community food for thought

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

If the business people and residents of Minden follow through with development recommendations made by the team of architects this week, the village could become one of the most attractive tourist towns in Ontario.

When the Community Assist for Urban Study Effort (CAUSE) was released to the public Monday, after four intensive work days, members of the community registered little opposition to the proposals made by the team. The CAUSE study, sponsored by the Ontario Association of Architects and the Minden Business Improvement Area (BIA), looked at many problems of the business sector of the community and suggested ideas that would alleviate dilemmas and beautify the town. The team consisted of four architects: Glen Hadley, of Rounthwaite, Dick and Hadley Architects; Takvor Hopyan, principal of Takvor Hopyan Architects; Julian Jacobs, principal of Julian Jacobs, Architect, Toronto; Carl Knipfel, director of Urban Design, Scarborough and two fifth year students of architecture, Tim Fyles from Ottawa's Carleton University and David Northcote from the University of Waterloo.

The report was unveiled at the Minden municipal office Monday morning. With sketches of proposed improvements and black and white photographs of Minden's present appearance lining the wall, each member of the team explained the suggested improvements.

Seen as the most important feature of the town was the Gull River, which flows through the centre of the town. "Stratford is probably the only other town in the province that has such a lovely setting," the architects said in their report. However, Jacobs told the audience that "we feel it (the river banks) isn't developed at all."

"The one idea we want to leave you with (is) that the most important feature and potential for development in Minden is between the post office and the river," Jacobs continued.

The report suggests maximum use of the area can be made by closing of the section of South Water Street from Minden Texaco to the intersection of Bobcaygeon Road. If the residents wished to maximize the river area's potential, the architects said board walks should be installed, seating and eating areas could be enlarged, an adult swimming area could be created and craft boutiques for local artists to sell their wares also would attract people to the area. By closing the street, the architects also hoped to eliminate problems created by a poor line of vision at the intersection of South Water Street and Bobcaygeon Road.

"The intention is to reinforce the relationship of the main downtown block to the river, promote the development of this space and the river for a range of public uses, and create for Minden the Civic Square it now lacks," the report explained.

If the South Water Street section was closed, traffic would filter along Milne Street to the present intersection of Newcastle Street. In another recommendation, the architects said Newcastle Street should be closed before the intersection and a terraced Civic Garden could be cultivated on the eastern grade of the intersection. Milne Street would then feed directly

Dysart okays arcade

Council splits on granting licence request

In a split vote, Dysart et al council has approved the first application for an electronic games arcade under a by-law passed last month.

Wesley Good of Haliburton attended a special meeting of council Monday night asking for a license to open an arcade in the former Frostee Freeze building on Haliburton's main street.

Reeve Murray Fearrey refused to sign a motion granting the license, a move which forced council to go into committee of the whole with deputy reeve Harold Bannon in the chair. Once the motion was formally introduced, Fearrey and councillor Sid Cooper registered votes against it.

Councillors Gary McKnight and Roy Brohm supported Good's application. It was left to Bannon to cast the deciding vote in favour of granting Good a license.

In an interview Tuesday, Fearrey said he voted 'nay' to the motion for three reasons. Firstly, Good wanted a number of regulations in the by-law eased, and while council opted not to consider changes, Fearrey said he felt Good would continue to press for amendments.

Secondly, the building Good had chosen, is "a hole in the wall" and "not desirable for any business," Fearrey said.

And thirdly, the reeve said he felt one arcade on the main street (at the Inside Edge) "is sufficient for an area the size of Haliburton." Councillor Sid Cooper said he voted against the application because he is philosophically opposed to arcades, believing that "in the long run, they will lead to drugs and crime."

"My basic philosophy is that any arcade is going to drain money out of the pockets of kids", Cooper said, money that they will get from their parents, from jobs, or from theft.

He noted that a student at SS (where Cooper is an administrative assistant) was recently charged with stealing money from another student, and police discovered that the thief had spent the money at a local arcade.

"My first response would be to try to keep arcades out altogether," Cooper said, adding that if that is not possible, they should be strictly controlled.

"I think council has an obligation to society to reject things that society doesn't really want," Cooper noted.

Councillor Gary McKnight said he voted to grant the license because Good followed the proper application

Only the beginning... pg. 4 procedure and agreed to operate within the regulations of the by-law.

"We can't make a by-law to keep them all out," McKnight said, adding that if arcades could be stopped entirely, he would support the move.

"They're here anyway, whether we like it or not", McKnight noted. If Good does not conform to the restrictions set down in the by-law, "he won't be there", McKnight said.

McKnight does not believe the approval of Good's license will open the door for other arcades on the main street, since council retains the right to reject future applications. He said he would not support any more arcades in Haliburton.

"As far as I'm concerned, that's it," he said.

Councillor Roy Brohm said he felt council had to approve the application because it had been made properly, and conformed to the recently passed by-law. "You can't use discrimination," Brohm noted, adding "I don't like arcades either, personally."

Brohm said he would introduce a motion at the next council meeting in a bid to force businesses with two machines or less to conform to the same regulations set down in the new by-law. "I'm going to have it amended," Brohm said.

Deputy reeve Harold Bannon could not be reached for comment.

The Haliburton ladies baseball league is in full swing, giving local fans something to cheer about every Monday night at local ball diamonds. Here Pam Iles winds up for the pitch and Wendy Roberts guards first base in a game against Carnarvon.

Board stands firm; students to move

The Haliburton County Board of Education has upheld its decision to move close to 60 Grade 2 students from Victoria Street School to Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School for Grade 3.

Strong opposition from parents forced the board to reconsider the decision, but at a meeting last Tuesday, trustees unanimously agreed not to delay the move, slated for this fall.

A committee of Dysart trustees spent close to 20 hours meeting with parents and the principals of both schools before recommending last Tuesday that the board let its original decision stand.

Nancy Stinson, who headed the committee, said the four Dysart trustees had met with Victoria Street principal Ruth Gorrie at the urging of parents, and that "we would recommend that the motion stay".

Trustee Len Salvatori said the committee concluded that "educationally (the students) would do as well in the new school as they would in (Victoria Street)".

Trustee Derrell Stamp agreed, noting that "we feel we should go ahead with the move as decided before".

Trustee Paul Wilson said Gorrie gave the committee "a lot of information which I carefully went through."

"But on the whole I agree with the other committee members that we can offer everything and probably more at the senior elementary school," Wilson said.

"It was a tough decision, but I feel we've made the right decision," Wilson told parents who were on hand to see the issue concluded.

Parents' strongest argument against the move centred on the "primary unit" of Kindergarten through Grade 3, which they felt should be left intact. But Wilson stressed that in his view "the primary unit is not the whole consideration".

A number of other factors were taken into consideration, including overcrowding at Victoria Street, inadequate washrooms, and the need for more library and physical education space, Wilson indicated.

Keeping the primary unit together "is not acceptable in this situation because there are too many extenuating circumstances," he told parents.

Jane Heyes, spokesman for parents opposed to the move, told the board that Gorrie had made a proposal for accommodating the Grade three classes at Victoria Street next year without undue problems.

"They do have the facilities to keep everyone at the school with a class size no greater than 26," Heyes told trustees.

But trustee Len Salvatori countered that delaying the move to the senior elementary school for a year would not solve anything, because parents would continue to oppose it.

He noted that if Gooderham school were closed because of declining enrolment, students would have to be bused from there to Haliburton and accommodated at Victoria Street.

"You have to make long range plans," Salvatori said of the board's actions, adding that "we're not trying to destroy the system".

Trustee Ross Anderson raised parents' ire when he accused them of simply being opposed to the change.

Parent Dawn Brohm countered that she was not against change, but wanted "change for the better".

Trustee Ralph Young took the same stand as Anderson.

"I think the problem here is not with the children; it's with the adults," Young said. "You people refuse to accept change."

Board chairman Cheryl Murdoch cut off discussion approximately half an hour into the meeting, observing that "we (the board) have been more than fair".

When a vote was called for, no trustee was in favour of rescinding the motion made last November 21 to move the Grade 3 classes to the senior elementary school.

"The original motion stands, and that's the matter closed," Murdoch told the parents.

Dysart rejects balloon compromise

Recreation committee's recommendations lose out in split vote

In divided vote, Dysart et al council has opposed its recreation committee and closed the door on Skyline Rides owner Steve Bowskill's hopes of flying a hot air balloon from the municipal ball diamond this summer.

The recreation committee recommended that Bowskill be allowed to fly the balloon, subject to a number of conditions designed to protect the municipality. But at a special meeting Monday night, council refused to support the committee's position.

Deputy reeve Harold Bannon, councillor Roy Brohm and councillor Sid Cooper each voted against the resolution that would have enabled Bowskill to use the ball field at specified times this summer.

Reeve Murray Fearrey and councillor Gary McKnight backed the recreation committee's stand and registered 'nay' votes to the resolution denying Bowskill the permission he sought.

Monday's decision appeared to be the final step in negotiations between Bowskill, the recreation committee and council that began more than a month ago.

Initially, the committee rejected Bowskill's request to fly the balloon from the park, and that decision was backed by council. But the committee reconsidered following a presentation from Bowskill and the drafting of a number of conditions which Bowskill agreed to meet.

These included:

- * Use of one corner of the field for tethered flights approximately three hours daily for a total of some 29 days.

- * Flights of the balloon from the top of Skyline hill rather than the ball field whenever weather conditions permit.

- * All litter to be removed by Bowskill.

- * Scheduled and unscheduled events, including the Legion and Rotary Carnivals, to take precedence over Bowskill's use of the field.

- * A fee of $25 per day for use of the field by Bowskill, payable to the municipality weekly.

- * All necessary approvals from government agencies.

- * Bowskill to insure and save harmless the municipality from all liability arising from operation of the balloon, or to enter into a lease agreement with council.

- * Bowskill to pay the cost of preparing all necessary agreements.

- * Use of the field for balloon flights to be allowed only for the 1982 season.

Despite the apparent thoroughness of the conditions and the protection of the municipality from liability, the recreation committee's recommendations were rejected.

Council's stand does not preclude Bowskill flying the balloon from his own property at the top of the Sky Slider ride, but weather conditions will make such flights infrequent if not impossible, since the balloon cannot be safely inflated in winds greater than eight kilometres an hour.

Damage to Mills' car was estimated at $3000 while damage to Burk's car was estimated at $2000. Burk was charged with making an unsafe turn.

Fire damages truck

A fire that broke out in the engine caused an estimated $4000 to a pickup truck last Thursday. Cathy Dawson, 23, of Eagle Lake, was driving on Highway 519 in Guilford Township when smoke began pouring into the cab. She parked the vehicle on the shoulder of the road and it burst into flames which engulfed the engine and cab.

Motorcyclist breaks leg

A Parry Sound motorcyclist was injured Sunday when he failed to negotiate a curve on Highway 118 opposite the Lakeview School in Haliburton. Michael Moloney, 29, travelled through the guard rail, down an embankment and into some trees after the kick stand of his Yamaha hit the pavement, throwing him off balance. Moloney suffered a broken leg and a broken ankle on the opposite leg.

Minden to administer water system

In an attempt to save money and also gain from high interest rates, Anson, Hindon and Minden council has opted to assume the administration of the municipal water system.

Presently, the system is owned by the municipality but the administration must be carried out through the Ministry of the Environment. The municipality pays wages and repairs and other incidentals by the system and then sends the bill to the ministry every three months. The ministry returns a cheque for the amount of the municipality's bills. At the end of the year, the ministry charges the municipality for all the funds reimbursed during the year. Council also feels it is paying the ministry for unnecessary administration.

Board stands firm

The final word on the matter came from parent John Stouffer, however, who urged parents to be positive in discussing the matter with youngsters.

"I would strongly suggest that each person make very sure that you speak in a very positive way (to the youngsters) about what's happening," Stouffer said.

Under the new system suggested by councillor Ed Pergolas, the municipality will pay all the charges of the water system directly and have no ties with the ministry's administration. Debiture payments, which currently are paid, will be the only money that passes between the government offices.

The ministry also holds a reserve fund in excess of $33,000 for the municipal system with approximately eight and a half per cent interest allotted to the account. Pergolas said the municipality could enlarge its reserve fund considerably by putting it in a bank saving account.

Pergolas told council the system was in very good shape for reducing its deficit from $40,712 to $22,115 this year. Reduction of the deficit was expected to take five years but the municipality is ahead of schedule, Pergolas said.

As well as the costs saving, Pergolas said the move was expected to save the time municipal employees spend processing data for the ministry.

The ministry has given its approval in principle and was awaiting the municipal resolution backing the move, that was passed last Wednesday evening. Pergolas suggested the changeover should take place by July 1.

Teachers settle on new contract for a teacher with maximum qualifications and 11 years experience.

In addition to the wage settlement, teachers will also get a 75 per cent OHIP subsidy from the board, a $200 professional development subsidy to offset the cost of approved courses, and the opportunity to purchase more long term disability protection.

The teachers also wanted the new contract to include a policy on lifting children with various disabilities and administering pills to youngsters with medical problems. The board has agreed to draft the policy in the near future.

Teachers and the board also agreed to set a deadline of February 28 in each teaching year for teachers wishing to apply for leaves of absence or a change from full time to part time status.

Exemption rejected

Rockcliffe to conform to noise by-law

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has turned down the Rockcliffe Tavern's request for exemption from the municipal noise by-law after receiving 18 letters and one petition objecting to the application.

The application for exemption to the by-law, made by Pollard - Willis Ltd., suggested the Rockcliffe was more traditional than other community festivals which are exempt from the provisions of the by-law.

According to municipal clerk Elinor Burke, the letters of objection and concern, related to the traditional exemption. One letter suggested the Rockcliffe Tavern had been "traditionally noisy" Burke said.

Dave Willis, owner of the tavern, attended council Wednesday evening to ask council which direction it would follow on the application to exempt The Rockcliffe. Council had previously advertised the exemption in a local newspaper in accordance with the Municipal Act.

Council was wary of moving further on the application after receiving the objections.

"It looks like we'd have quite a few names to buck,"

Dentist named to BIA board

Following the resignation of an opposition board member of the Business Improvement Area (BIA), Anson, Hindon and Minden council appointed another businessman to the board, last Wednesday night.

Joe Shapiera, who was appointed to the board when it was first formed in 1981, tendered his resignation on May 13. In accordance with a ruling by the Ontario Municipal Board, Shapiera was appointed to represent the village businessmen who opposed the program.

Dr. John Purc, whose dentist office borders on the edge of the BIA has been appointed to the position. Dr. Purc is also an opposition member.

Reeve Lloyd Walker told Willis.

Willis countered that the objections represented only one per cent of the vote in the municipality.

However, Ed Pergolas said no letters had been received in favour of the proposal. Willis said he also could have produced a petition. Walker suggested that Willis be given a chance to produce a petition but Pergolas said "it was too late".

Council dismissed the application to exempt the Rockcliffe Tavern from the municipal noise by-law during 1982.

Tuesday, Burke said the municipality had received a letter from Willis' solicitor requesting copies of the letters of objection. Council has turned the matter over to its legal council and is awaiting advice before making that decision.

Library to move

The old Minden library is scheduled to be moved from its lot on Peck Street to a new foundation near the Minden Cultural Centre, Friday.

The structure, which has a long history in the village, was first built as the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. When the bank constructed a new building, the old building was moved onto Peck Street.

CAUSE ideas could make Minden beautiful

Team suggests planning and promotional budget be created to help village improve

onto the main street and alleviate many traffic problems created by the present eight lanes of traffic that meet at the intersection.

The report suggests that seating, extensive planting, fountains, terraces, a sculpture, public information displays and a pedestrian connection to Newcastle Street could provide a focus at the eastern end of the main street that is badly needed. The architects said the BIA should approach local clubs to help develop the civic garden.

Another of the long-range proposals made by the architects was the development of "Mount Minden". When approaching the village from the Bobcaygeon Road exit off Highway 35, the architects were impressed by the presence of the hill and how it "gives form and definition to the roadway".

Along with designating the hill as Mount Minden, the architects suggested that the zoning should be changed to allow a tourist accommodation resort; or in the event the Kanawa International Canoe Museum was ever moved, the hill would provide an optimum location. The architects were surprised the hill seemed to be "flattened out" in the minds of the local residents.

Improvements were also suggested for the most southerly and most northerly of Minden's entrances off Highway 35. Attractive signing and lines of trees that would lead tourists into the town would help the village develop its potential the group said.

"Minden is a town which does not attract all potential tourist business from Highway 35. This is due in part to the fact that access to the town is not highlighted," the architects summarized.

While many projects suggested by the architects would have to be implemented in a comprehensive planning strategy, the team suggested a list of priorities should be considered. To maximize the effect of the study, the team suggested relatively inexpensive steps should be taken immediately to give the BIA an obvious presence in the town. The first priority was to encourage a maintenance program by implementing strict property standards, to improve the lighting in the downtown area and to incorporate awnings along the facades of main street businesses. The architects said consistent awnings of the same material, size and colour would draw the town together but avoid the slick city atmosphere that some residents had said would not appeal to them.

Given second priority was the closure of South Water Street and Newcastle Streets as well as improving the grades on some streets and resurfacing most of the town's roadways.

Development of the riverside parks should be the town's next consideration according to the architects. And finally, the fourth priority, as the team sees it, is walkway improvements which would include alleys to the off-street parking and the development of the Civic Garden.

The architects responded to views outlined in 93 questionnaires and concerns voiced at a public meeting at the community centre Thursday night. According to the responses to the questionnaire, 41 people wanted the sidewalks and roadways repaired or replaced, 32 felt the appearance of the main street should be improved, 25 requested more convenient parking, 22 suggested the Rockcliffe Tavern should be removed, 17 wanted the Rockcliffe patio screened from the main street, 15 thought a greater variety of goods should be available at better prices and felt stores should have uniform business hours, 15 felt the traffic patterns should be improved and some intersections made safer, 12 referred to inadequate street lighting and 12 suggested convenience facilities such as seating and public washrooms should be more prevalent in the downtown core.

The architects attempted to address these issues and even dealt with the problems that arise from the Rockcliffe Tavern being located in town.

"The most controversial topic encountered was the Rockcliffe Hotel. There were those who felt the business should go while others felt that its removal would do great harm to the commercial

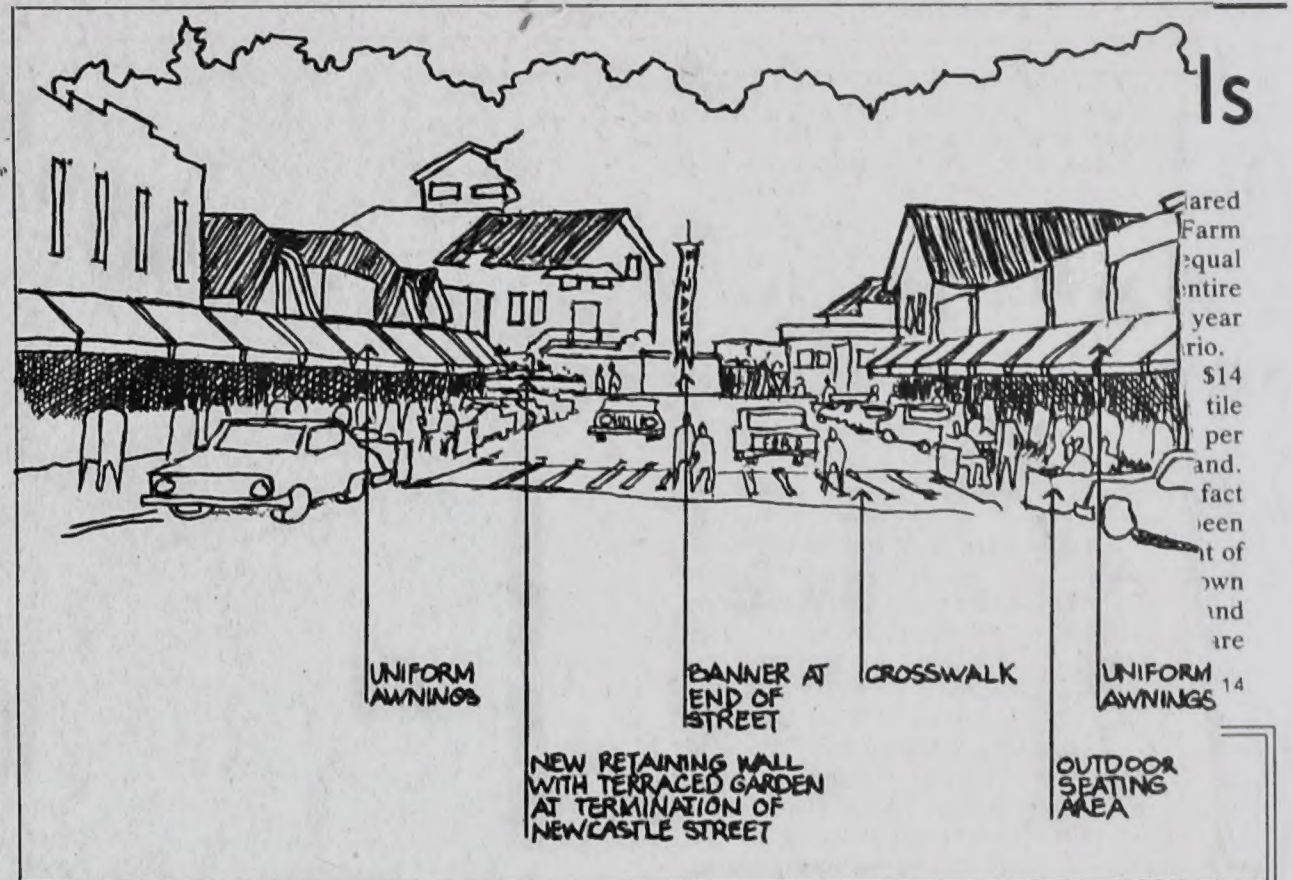

'Minden does not attract all potential tourist business from Highway 35' viability of the town," the report stated.

To help alleviate noise and visual problems in the area of the establishment, the architects suggested an attractive "screening" could improve the looks of the Tavern and also rectify some of the problems.

Another specific recommendation made in the report suggests the driveway beside the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce should be closed because it creates a dangerous intersection. The architects suggested a building rather than a park would be more suitable for this location.

Another high priority listed by the architects was the establishment of a comprehensive official plan for the town. Because Minden has lacked such a plan "to guide private developments and public work (it) has prevented the town from realizing some of its potential," the report theorized. Knipfel explained to the audience Monday morning that only .0005 per cent of the town's 1979 budget was allotted for planning.

Architects concept of revamped main street

"That's the smallest amount I've ever heard of," he said.

He suggested the town should increase its budget for planning and promotion. Winter attractions should be promoted as most businesses ducted in a "broad brush" manner and hope further study would be conducted on projects the community felt viable.

"Where appropriate, the best professional advice should be obtained to carry forward in are operating at much less than their summer capacity, the report said.

The team briefly touched on the matter of providing funding for any projects that might be considered. Government agencies such as the Ministry of Natural Resources, Ministry of Tourism and Recreation, Ministry of Citizenship and Culture, Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing, Ministry of Transportation and Communications should be approached for suitable grants, the architects suggested. Local service clubs can also provide much needed funds and manpower, the report added.

The architects admitted the report was con-greater detail the various elements of the plan," the report said.

Now that the report has been completed the next step is a general meeting of the BIA members to discuss the proposals, BIA chairman Gord Monk said Monday.

While the proposals are far from reality, one of the study's most important pieces of advice was contained in the team's "recommended actions".

"An action strategy will have to be made by Minden. Obviously the BIA can do little without the enthusiastic support of elected officials, municipal staff and all the residents," the report concluded.

Right and wrong

rt et al council doesn't often make de-Dama that go against the grain of the community when a common sense, but they made two on and flippy night.

Wayt special meeting, and on split votes, council the vet to grant an arcade licence to a local Lorraine'sman, and to reject a recommendation its recreation committee to allow the Sky hot air balloon to fly in the ball park under gent conditions. Both decisions were wrong-Aned. And both will have long term con-her ences for the community.

Towhe arcade issue has been a difficult one from Seoutset. Citizens of Haliburton have made it pichn that they do not want arcades on main cut set. Most do not want them anywhere. Close to Si people emphasized the point at council's May andeting, when a tough new by-law designed to ideal with the problem was passed. Now, council has gone against the wishes of the community by failing to exercise an option that would have stymied, at least temporarily, Haliburton bus-nessman Wes Good's application to open an arcade. The Municipal Act gives council the right to license arcades, and the new by-law gives council the tool to do so. Council has the right to reject any application for a licence, and it should have exercised that right in the case of Good's request. In fact, two members of council - reeve Murray Fearrey and councillor Sid Cooper - did precisely that, registering 'nay' votes against the motion. Councillors Gary McKnight and Roy Brohm voted to grant the license, and the tie vote was broken by deputy reeve Harold Bannon, who supported Good's application.

It is possible that Good might have contested a decision against his application. He may have chosen to take the matter to court and argue that the by-law is discriminatory and council's position unjust. He will not have to do so, however, because three out of five councillors have opened the door for arcades from one end of the main street to the other.

Had council been forced to take the issue to court, the community would have backed its politicians all the way. As it stands, the community must put up with an arcade it does not want because three councillors did not listen to the people's wishes.

In the case of the balloon decision, council has shown a disconcerting lack of confidence in its recreation committee. The committee met with balloon owner Steve Bowskill last week in a bid to come up with an agreement that would be in the best interests of both parties. Two things were at stake: protection of the public interest, and the question of moral support for a tourist attraction that may well succeed or fail based on the number of riders it can attract this summer.

The committee was careful to protect the public interest by setting down a number of conditions which would have to be met if the balloon was to fly in the park. These included insurance protection at Bowskill's expense, a fee for use of the ball diamond, restricted hours, clean up of litter, and availability of the park for scheduled and unscheduled events. When Bowskill agreed to meet the conditions, the committee, albeit in a decision that was not unanimous, recommended to council that he be given permission to use the park for one season only.

In rejecting the committee's recommendations, councillors Sid Cooper, Roy Brohm and Harold Bannon have undermined the committee's purpose and dealt a harsh blow to the people who volunteer to serve on it.

They have also placed another obstacle in the way of the Sky Slider, a business in which the community, whether it likes it or not, has a vested interest.

Haliburton will now have an arcade to tempt focal youngsters into wasting quarters on senseless amusements, but will not have a balloon which might have helped attract more people to the business community on any given summer day.

To most people, those realities will seem a rejection of common sense.

Council doesn't listen to the people

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Your recent article on arcades prompts me to write my first letter to the Editor.

It seems that at the last council meeting, a delegation was present to object to same. At a council meeting last night the same council approved an arcade for a non resident, non taxpayer. The previous person was at least a resident and taxpayer and was turned down.

It is obvious that the present council does not listen to or care about the taxpayer or its youth.

Sincerely,
D.B. [Joe] Iles
Haliburton, Ontario

To the Editor:

My family and I were glad to be back in the Haliburton area at our cottage for the long week-end in May.

On the Tuesday after this week-end our copy of the Haliburton Echo arrived. In Creighton Feir's column, mention was made of the following events to be held on the long week-end: (a) Fireworks display, (b) Sky Slider opening (BBQ, special rates, etc.), (c) Head Lake Park official opening.

We missed them all!

Now I realize that a few days are needed for me to receive my Echo in Toronto. I am used to receiving it the next week. I do wonder though, why events, etc. can't be advertised or mentioned a little sooner than they are presently? These are not the first events that we have missed because of finding out too late.

I am a firm believer in supporting the Haliburton area in all aspects (and have done so for 12 years), but how can I when we are not informed what is going on?

Please keep us seasonal residents in mind, and the fact that the mails are a little slow, when advertising for other events, activities, etc.

Thank you,
Yours truly,
Larry Holden,
Toronto, Ont.
(Summer Resident)

There are reasons to second guess how serious both matters are to the community as a whole.

The arcade issue is a difficult one, but not because of the individual making the application.
In fact, councillors are unanimous in stating that Wes Good has followed the proper procedures, and dealt fairly and honestly with council. If anyone can run a proper arcade, one councillor said, it is probably Good.

That has nothing to do with the community's feelings, however. It is not Good whom people reject; it is the idea of arcades. And it is to that feeling that council should have been sensitive. Council should have said no to Good and accepted the consequences, even if that meant an eventual testing of the by-law in the courts.

Councillors who supported Good's application may feel that they can shut the door on someone else, but they have made that task a great deal harder than it would have been otherwise.

As for the balloon, council had a responsibility to protect the public interest, and the recreation committee's conditions would have done just that.
The balloon would have been an attraction, and may have helped the Sky Slider become a little more viable. As it stands, council must accept at least a small part of the responsibility for the success or failure of the attraction this summer.

You have to hand it to the people of Haliburton and surrounding area when it comes to sheer dedication. During a downpour of rain the official opening ceremonies of the new Head Lake Park at Haliburton on Sunday, May 23 a crowd of well over 200 citizens stood out in front of the bandshell with their umbrellas to take in the speeches, ribbon cutting ceremony and musical presentations. Yes, everyone is very proud of this park and their enthusiasm has extended not only when it was under construction but right through to the official opening. In the evening an estimated crowd of over 5000 people was in the village to take in the massive fireworks display and so many cars and trucks arrived to take in the spectacle that at various times there were several traffic tie-ups. It was really something to see. This goes to prove that if you give the people something that they want to see, you can count on them showing up. Everything is in place at the park and the grass seed that was just recently planted is really showing results and the lovely green grass is starting to blend in with the beautiful landscape that goes to make up this wonderful new addition to the village. No matter how many things are done there will always be more changes and features to be added as time goes by. Visitors and local citizens alike are starting to take advantage of the new facilities during these balmy days. A great deal of effort has gone into making this park and it has been placed there for the use and enjoyment of the general public. I don't know about you but we are proud of this new park. As we have said many times before this park is there for the enjoyment of everyone and if we all look after it in a proper manner then everyone will get many hours of pleasure out of this local show-piece.

Who was it that said there's no fish in the Highlands of Haliburton? Just last week we were talking to one of the more ardent fisherman in the area and he was telling me that there has been good reports on the excellent luck that fishermen were having in various lakes in the Highlands of Haliburton.

The Rotary Club are pleased to announce that through the winter carnival chairman Doug Devolin they are now in a position to report that the proceeds from the last Haliburton Winter Carnival were in excess of $2,800. Everyone can rest assured that the money raised will be put to good use by the club wherever they feel it is needed.

The members of the Lakeside Baptist Church are taking this opportunity to invite you to an Open House to be held on Sunday, June 13 from 2
- 4 p.m. in honour of Rev. John Smith's 25 years of faithful ministry in our area. The place is the Lakeside Baptist Church at Haliburton.

It was a joyous occasion recently in Wilberforce when Ted Sheehy, Roads Superintendent for the Township of Monmouth for twelve years was honoured at a supper put on by friends at the Lloyd W. Watson Memorial Centre. As a token of their appreciation for his many years of dedicated service, the officials of the Township presented Ted with a beautiful leather recliner chair. The evening along with the supper was an occasion that brought together Mr. and Mrs. Sheehy and their family and members of Monmouth Council and their wives and friends. Present were: Reeve Keith Tallman and Sylvia Tallman, Deputy Reeve
Carman Coumbs and Jo-Ann Coumbs, Councillor
Harry Clark and Marion Clark, Councillor Barry
Dunford and Nancy Dunford, Township Clerk Sharon Hunter, and Edward Freeman. In his thank you address Ted recalled his first employment with the township which began in 1955 and he went on to say that the starting salary was $2.15 per hour. He also displayed a Roads Superintendent's manual which had been used throughout the years listing them all starting in 1945. Reeve Keith Tallman in his remarks stated that he had known Ted all his life and noted that he worked for the Chidley Bus Lines of Lindsay where his thoughtfulness earned the respect of many people. Keith explained to all present that Ted had been forced to retire because of ill health two years ago and that Council members had waited until he could regain his strength before having a party for him. At this time I would also like to take this opportunity on behalf of Ted's many friends in the area in wishing him many great years of happiness and good health.

If there was ever a time in the history of mankind that everyone could enjoy a good laugh that time must be now. If we want to face reality it would appear that most of the news is bad, bad and bad. On the national and international fronts we seem to be faced with listening and seeing the same gloomy newscasts on the television and radio each and every evening. There is plenty of good news right here in Haliburton County, in Ontario and in Canada and around the world happening each and every day but it's the kind of news that just doesn't make the national at 11 p.m. Let's look at the brighter side of the news and think about all the times that people are helping people. A comedian remarked once that the best medicine today is a good laugh.

Friends of Mark Vasey of Minden will be sorry to hear that he is at present a patient at St.
Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough following surgery. I am sure that Mark would really appreciate a get well card or a visit. We all hope that he will soon be home once again.

Queen's Park Report

by John Eakins, MPP

I am pleased that tenders have been called for resurfacing, grading, drainage, granular base and structure rehabilitation on Highway 35 from 3.7 miles north of Norland northerly to Highway 121 for 11.9 miles including two structures.

This project is for resurfacing this section of Highway 35 to current design standards. Included will be rehabilitation of the north and south Gull River structures and minor grading and paving work at the Minden patrol yard.

Tenders will be opened for this project at ministry headquarters in Downsview June 9.

Sick Kids Hospital

Mr. Justice Charles Dubin of the Ontario Supreme Court has been appointed to head a review of procedures at the Hospital for Sick Children, in connection with the unexplained deaths of 43 babies in the hospital's cardia ward between July 1980 and March 1981. There has been considerable pressure for a public inquiry into the matter.

Ontario Opposition Members and top criminal lawyers have called for a royal commission into the deaths amid criticism of police investigation of the case. The "only way to salvage the reputation of a top hospital is to have a royal commission investigate" said Ontario Liberal Leader David Peterson.

Hydro's Deal With G.P.U.

Ontario Hydro's $1 billion export deal with General Public Utilities of the U.S. will not go to a public hearing. Conservative members of a legislative committee have defeated a move for such a public hearing into Ontario Hydro's plan to export $1 billion worth of electricity, voting against a motion introduced by Liberal Environment Critic Murray Elston of Huron-Bruce. Hydro plans to sell 1.2 million kilowatt hours of power for 10 years, beginning in 1985 to General Public Utilities of New Jersey, and hopes to make $1 billion profit.

Opposition members have been demanding an assessment of how much more acid rain pollution Hydro's plans will cause, in that it proposes to supply its U.S. customer with coal-generated electricity from its Nanticoke plant on Lake Erie, via a submarine cable.

The Davis-Miller Provincial Budget leaves no doubt that this government still does not recognize the importance of the farm sector to the Ontario economy or the substantial contribution of the farming community.

As my colleague, and Agriculture Critic, Jack Riddell, M.P.P., has pointed out, at a time when farmers need meaningful financial programs to help stave off bankruptcy, this budget does nothing to assist their survival.

Ontario farm bankruptcies are increasing

Lone councillor gets entire limelight

Serendipity

by SUE COOPER

Ed Pergolas' prominence as a councillor for Anson, Hindon and Minden has grown over the past year and a half. He has been the driving force behind many administrative changes in the municipality, and has suggested alternatives to the present system in a bid to make most of the townships' departments operate more efficient.

But Pergolas' efforts to improve the municipality have never been more obvious to local residents than at the unveiling of the CAUSE study, Monday morning. (CAUSE is a program sponsored by the Ontario Association of Architects to help towns alleviate planning problems and beautify their centres).

Pergolas was the only member of council to attend the presentation.

Admittedly, Pergolas is council's representative on the Business Improvement Area (BIA) board of directors, which sponsored the study. However, the public announcement of the findings of the study and the suggestions made to improve the potential business in the village deserved more suitable recognition from the remainder of council.

The absent council members knew at least four days in advance that the all-important meeting was scheduled for Monday. None, apparently, took the time to reorganize his schedule.

Nobody has suggested that holding an elected office is easy, and most Minden councillors will attest, this term has been a rocky one. Council may blame the press for its problems (or for making its problems public) but most of it's dilemmas are encouraged by the members' actions. A person can't help but wonder why council members would not care enough to attend this meeting.

It's possible that some other important matter demanded their attention, but it is difficult to believe reeve Lloyd Walker, deputy-reeve Doug Pritchard and councillors Lyle McKnight and Larry Cummins are over-run with so many responsibilities that an hour and a half could not be allotted to listen to the most exciting study that has been completed in the township of Minden.

For the team of architects, who donated their time around the clock for four days, the absence of council could have been nothing but an insult.

The men's failure to appear was also a direct slap-in-the-face to the BIA which needs to be supported more than it needs to be ignored.

It is truly a wonder why citizens would run for council if they can't show more enthusiasm for a potentially major project than Minden councillors demonstrated Monday.

Margie Newton to represent HHSS at final

It is the second consecutive year that Newton has made it to the provincial final.

She earned the right to advance with a fourth place finish in the senior girls high jump event at the regional final.

Adults needed to help coach minor baseball

Baseball continues to thrive in the village. Close to 200 girls and boys are now registered. More adults are needed to assist with the supervision of the teams especially in the area of Atoms and PeeWee. If you can help please contact Nancy Brink at the ball diamond at the Senior Elementary School on Wednesday night. Your support will enable the youngsters to participate.

Library career stretched 70 years

Ada Lewis cared for books in 5 buildings

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Ada Lewis has been associated with the Minden library for the last 70 years. She watched it grow from a tiny room in the upper level of the general store in the early 1900's until the institution blossomed into the cultural centre last year.

Ada Lewis

Lewis first began her long career at the Minden library when she was a small child. Her Aunt, Annie Gainer, was the librarian and Lewis liked nothing more than to spend her Saturdays amongst the books.

"I wasn't very big and I wanted to put the books on the shelf. I had to crawl up on her (Gainer's) knee to reach," Lewis recalls.

In the early years of the twentieth century the library consisted of a small room on the second floor of a general store on the main street (later owned by Sam Welch). Although Lewis doesn't recall the books ever being counted back then there is little doubt that the present library contains a great many more volumes.

In those early years, patrons of the library were expected to pay 50 cents for library privileges for a year. At the time it was mainly the women townsfolk who frequented the little upper story room.

While Lewis was still assisting her aunt, the library was moved to a small room on the ground level of the store. "It was just a narrow little place," Lewis recalls.

The book collection was small but purchases of new material were made occasionally. The complex but less expensive regional library book-trading system was not underway yet, Lewis explains.

It wasn't long before the library moved again. This time the books took up residence over the printing shop operated by R.H. Baker in Minden.

Lewis continued to help her aunt with the library duties until Gainer married about 1920. Lewis was given the position of librarian which carried with it a $6 salary for three months' of Saturdays spent caring for the books. Librarians were expected to clean and dust the establishment as well, Lewis adds.

Lewis continued as librarian until she married in 1927 and then she took a leave that lasted almost 40 years.

The library underwent many changes while Lewis was absent; finally it was moved to a home of its own on Peck Street. The first bank of Minden was converted to accommodate the collection of books.

Lewis didn't return to the library until 1965

Ada Lewis with member in old library

when an assistant was required to help librarian Jeanne Sears. Lewis was awarded the job and began working in the small building of the library had changed, little else seemed different when she returned from her hiatus.

After spending another 16 years with the library, Lewis watched as the community institution underwent another change last year. The new cultural centre was completed and the books were moved from the antiquated bank building on Peck Street.

The new, spacious quarters were difficult to get used to, Lewis admits. "I went around and around those shelves, I don't know how many times."

Although she reminisces about the days when the library was in the centre of town, Lewis feels the new library attracts a larger number of residents and visitors. And it's the heavier traffic flow, especially in the summer months, that spurred her to resign her library duties almost a month ago.

Lewis who will be 80 at the end of this month, felt that now was the time to retire, in order to let a new assistant become acquainted with the books before the busy season starts.

Even now that she's ended her library tenure, she has her memories of a career that has stretched 70 years during the life of Minden's cultural centre.

Happy Gang New

By Watson Anderson

That rain of Sunday and Monday seemed to have been a real soaker but having reason to use a shovel we found powder dry soil only 5 cm down, showing how parched the earth was to begin with. With that kind of deception, we can sometimes see wilt two days after such a rain and wonder why. All of our plants go into the beds June 1 except if we hear a weather forecast that does not predict frost for three days, then May 26 would be safe and that will mean a rush job for a lot of planting.

Monday morning June Devolin conducted bible study and in this session by request chose to study Christ's personality as a man among men. From the text it would seem that He would be a worthy opponent in a rough and tumble contest were it called for. When Jesus His disciples "I will you fishers of men" is statement quite in line with His personality. I ocal contact with the was quite matter of fact he healed as any good sician would. He was a good guy to have about.

A lot of bingos were gered by a few in the ternoon game with B. Wise and Rhonda St volunteer helpers and E. Smith doing a superb job doing all the calling. It ke lvy Shaw busy keeping prizes coming. Norman Titul won four in a row. That and the winnings of Harold MeKelvey made quite a dent in the game.

It is astonishing that the Toronto police force should have flummoxed so badly

We were sorry to miss the service in the Chapel Sunday night. We didn't like to tell our callers to go home. It didn't seem just right.

Monday, being a holiday, we had no Fun and Fitness and not until Tuesday afternoon - three movies did we witness.

Tuesday morning Rev. John Smith of the Haliburton Baptist Church took the service in the Chapel here. He says he has been the minister there for 25 years. He took his text from the fifty-fifth chapter of Isaiah - seek ye the Lord while he may be found - call ye upon him while He is near.

The Sydney Browns flew over to England for two weeks' holidays. We kids have had a lot of fun while they have been away. It is nice to have them back again. We miss Sydney here to ask the blessing at lunch time and bring a little cheer.

Tuesday night Payne, Deacon and Crowe came, as they have often before. They entertained us really well for one hour or more.

Wednesday afternoon the Cobocok Happy Wanderers wandered into Hyland Crest, and entertained us all so nice, and were our very welcome guests. They sang some good old time songs which were simply grand - like "Bless This House" and

There were eight tables of players and everyone was pleased to see Eva Peacock out to the games after an all-winter absence.

Mrs. Agnes Selkirk has been a welcome visitor for three weeks at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Jean and Bob Hollobon. The three of them left for Mrs. Selkirk's home in Scarborough on Friday afternoon past with Bob and Jean arriving back home Saturday.

Joyce and Jack Hills enjoyed the company of Ada and Bert Bowrin for dinner and a very pleasant Thursday evening, May 27.

I was sorry to hear Mr. Armstrong, June Phillips' dad, is ill and in Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay.

A pleasant evening was spent at St. James Anglican Hall, Thursday, May 27, where some 25 to 30 friends arrived to view the slides taken, during Joan and Ken Hyams' trip to their daughter and son-in-laws' home in Mililani Town, Hawaii. I personally couldn't make it that evening and I am told I really missed a lovely evening. I was also told that Joan looked ravishing in a mau mau and lei. Following the showing of slides, a lunch was served and six tables of card players "did their thing". The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

I was pleased to hear Nora Swinson is now home from hospital and coming along well. I hope you're feeling better by now, Diane Swinson.

Happy belated birthdays to John Pyke, May 26, when family members brought him for dinner, and to Dave McNamara on his 83rd birthday and his niece, Nora Brandon, both on May 12. Hi again folks! Another week and another column from your local area reporter.

Jean and I spent a delightful and profitable day at the flea market at the Haliburton Legion Hall. Although there didn't seem to be the crowd that was at the last flea market in April, the buying spirit seemed as good. Our table was located between the tables of the St. Anthony's church bake table and Joan Alger's table. Joan hails from Carnarvon and is connected with the Carnarvon ladies' softball team.

During a lull in business we approached our neighbours to push the West Guilford flea market scheduled for July 1. I was able to talk Joan into renting two tables for the future West Guilford flea market and the ladies from St. Anthony's group expressed interest, also. The Fort Irwin Residents Association booked an additional table for the Canada Day Celebration, too.

Lee-Anne Goodall called to say that the United Church Sunday School picnic has been re-scheduled for June 13 due to the nasty weather that was forecast for this last week-end. Sorry, Lee-Anne, but into each life some rain must fall. Call 754-2826 for additional information on this picnic.

West Guilford's most eligible bachelor, Neil Sisson, has a real "hankering" for Caesar Salad, since leaving the Armed Forces a short while ago. Any ladies from 8 to 80 in the area who have a recipe for a good Caesar Salad, are urged to contact "Slim Jim" Sisson. Any and all recipes will be gladly received by this young man. Welcome back to the area Neil.

The West Guilford ladies' softball team are really doing well this season. West Guilford defeated the Haliburton ladies' team 12 to 6 and creamed Wilberforce 23 to 6 in the two games they played last week. I wish the girls the best of luck in all their future games.

A gentleman who wishes to remain nameless, has kindly donated much merchandise to the Carnarvon and West Guilford ladies' softball teams. This merchandise will be divided between the two teams and offered for sale at the flea market sale, July 1. Gail Teasdale has rented two tables for the sale on behalf of the West Guilford softball team.

and prosperous years here. You folks who spend an arm and a leg in travelling, for a holiday, why not, for a change, take your holiday time and enjoy it, right in your own area? At the Balsam Lake Provincial Park on Hwy. 48 there are some 1100 acres of the most beautiful land around with paved parking lot, laundromats, comfort stations which are solar assisted, free showers, hot and cold water, excellent fishing, water skiing, canoe and sailboat rentals available and a nice beach along with picnic tables and fireplaces. You could pay $2.50 for a daily pass (Senior citizens free days weekly), or you could have a beautiful campsite with a picnic table for $6.50 per night and if you really want to go all out and have the above plus electricity, the rate is $8.00. This works on the reservation system so to make sure you have your own place in the sun, phone 454-3324 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. from Monday to Friday and reserve your campsite. If you are planning any special events this year and are in a quandary as to where to hold it, why not try the Balsam Lake Provincial Park? Just give Michael Green a call at 454-3324 and he'll be only too pleased to see what he can do to help you. The Park staff would love to see more of the local people use the facilities our own park has to offer. Thank you too, Mike, for the invitation and I'll be over there one of these days to have a look around. It sure would save on gas.

This will be the last chance I have to remind you that the Kinmount Spring Festival of the Arts will be held at the Community Hall in Kinmount on Friday, June 4 beginning at 1:30 p.m. If you have any kind of hand crafts you have either made yourself or someone else has made and is now in your possession please bring it to the Hall by 10 a.m. on Friday, June 4 so that we can get it set up. It would be appreciated if you could stay at the Hall with your own crafts and see that they are taken home afterwards. The show will run through the day and close depending on the interest shown. Sue Cooper of the Haliburton County Echo may possibly be there with her camera. We also expect a number of folks to be sitting there working on their individual crafts so it should be very interesting. There will be no admittance charge so here's hoping we'll see many of you there. For further information give me a call at 488-2399.

I hope all you sick people are well soon and the rest of you stay healthy and be here next week.

"Inflation is similar to putting on weight; its much easier to get started than to stop."

How easy it is to forget the snow and miserable cold weather with all the beautiful sunshine we have been having, the spring flowers have been blooming like mad, as only they can do. Some of the younger people have been swimming and water skiing and assure us that the water is warm. The question is, how warm? Maybe I will let you know next week.

It's nice to see our summer residents returning to their summer homes after a winter's absence. Frank and Emma Snyder are back at Shoe Lake after spending the winter in Florida. Eric Hamilton, a long time resident, has returned to his summer home on the island at Paint Lake. Eric's home is in Toronto.

The Dorset Senior Club will hold its annual meeting on Wednesday, June 2 when the election of officers for the following year will take place. The meeting will be preceded by a pot luck supper at 6 p.m. We hope there will be a good turn out of members.

Hazel Sears had her granddaughter Lorraine and her husband Miles Eagle of Tor-

Ted and Gloria Morris and their daughter Jennifer have recently returned from a trip to Winnipeg, Manitoba where they visited with another daughter Bonnie and son-in-law John Leslie. They say they enjoyed lovely weather and did some interesting sight-seeing in the Winnipeg area. Bonnie has just completed her second year in teacher education at the University of Winnipeg and John has recently earned his engineers' license with Midwest Helicopters, Ltd. He will be posted in the North West Territories for the summer, then he will be returning in August to Canadore College in North Bay to take the course to become a helicopter pilot. During her husband's absence Bonnie will spend the summer in Dorset with her parents, then in the fall the couple will move to North Bay where they will spend the next college year.

Household tip of the week: Toothpaste will remove small scratches from windows or a glass top table. Squeeze a small amount of paste on top of the scratch and rub gently with your finger tips. Rinse and polish as usual.

To remove tarnish from any

I sure hope that June, July and August do not pass us by as fast as May has. I told you I'd finish off the month of May with my birthday; my daughters cooked me the most delicious Chinese dinner on Sunday, my son-in-laws came and got me, and my Grandson brought me home. I love Chinese food, so I ate until I could not eat any more, then my granddaughters brought out my birthday cake; lucky they only put a few candles on it, I was able to blow them all out at once. That pleased the wee girls, and no I won't tell you how old I am, but I am not getting the old age pension yet.

Charles Lazier of Toronto visited friends in Minden

They say you are never to old to try anything once, and last week Mrs. Warner Casey had her first ride on a trail bike and enjoyed it very much. No I won't tell you her age either, let us just say she is over 80.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Brown visited friends in the St.

for last week - wouldn't worry about people think I knew how seldom day was a soggy day, it didn't deter me from going to get away from the city. Downtown in the city was like Broad-42nd street both on Sunday, by the way, people had had a day of relaxation and then headed for the lot of them getting on start. There was a big back up of traffic on May 11, making the trip longer in travelling but I guess it is worth it. We were able to spend some time in God's country with an air, peace and serenity. We send happy birthday wishes and many happy returns to Lorraine Weatherell who celebrates on June 8 and to Kate MacKay who has a birthday on June 9.

The Dorset Lions club held their father and son-daughter banquet on Tuesday, May 25 in the Dorset Community Centre. The event was well attended, with a Barbeque dinner which the men prepared, hot dogs, hamburgers with all the trimmings were the order of the day. Harry Martin of the Frost Centre showed a movie to entertain the group.

We send get well wishes to Kate MacKay who has been a patient in Huntsville Hospital. We hope she will soon be home and feeling fine again.

Helen and Graham Avery made a motor trip out to Cornwallis, Nova Scotia, to see their son Steven graduate from basic training in the armed forces.

A lot of people entertained over the long holiday and it became rather hectic in some instances where there were children involved as it was too wet for them to play outside. Hazel Sears had her usual house full. Son Billy from Mississauga, Norma and Harold Lovegrove, Mary and Angela McKay, Ronalea and Pat Hunter and children, Art and Donna Low and Laura and Mike Taylor, all of Hamilton.

A delightful party was held at the Frost Centre last Friday, the occasion being the retirement of Vernus Packard, who has been employed at the establishment since 1968. The party was held in the charming common room of Dorm 90, of which Vernus had been custodian. The event was well attended. As well as the Centre staff, Vern's family were present, also many past employees who had worked with Vernus over the years. A delicious lunch was served and there was a beautifully decorated cake. Vernus was commended for his conscientious and efficient service which had been greatly appreciated. He was presented with a lovely rocker type chair which was hoped would help him enjoy his retirement.

The fashion show on Sunday was well attended and brought in a nice sum for the community centre. All of the people who worked so hard to make it a success are to be commended, the ladies who modelled did a very professional job and showed off the lovely clothes to advantage. The sales ladies and purveyors of refreshments also contributed to the overall results. They are all to be congratulated for their efforts, especially Pricilla Lewis who organized the whole thing.

from page 9 when we first came here my father held a service at what was then the Scotch Line school during the week, so that those who wished could attend. He had four services on Sunday, so had a service there in the week. I know this is true for I had to go with him, as I could drive if necessary. There was no music but he tried, and as he said where 10 or 12 gathered together, it made his trip worth while.

This booklet is for sale as a keepsake so do not miss getting one.

Mrs. Anne Rae of Alliston spent a few days with the Phil Robinson's last week.

Movies will be shown next week June 11, at the Common Room at 7:15 p.m. for the children. These will be cartoons, etc.

I attended the BIA meeting last Thursday evening at the Community Centre. There was a very good crowd in attendance, and many ideas were tossed to the men who were brought in to help our village. Some were: a village or city type main street. The village type seemed to be the best, because when people come from the city they do not want to see what they left behind.

The main items seemed to be better parking, better sidewalks, and more areas for relaxing in town. The Haliburton County Farmers Association suggested a Farmers' Market once a week. I sure hope it matures as these are the backbone in other places. The Hydro were there to explain the different lighting systems. All in all it was a very interesting meeting, but I was rather upset that there were so few older residents present.

Fisherman's Casserole: 1 (10 oz) pkg. frozen peas; 1 (8 oz) pkg. shell macaroni; 1/2 cup chopped onion; 2 tbsps. margarine; 1 can cream of celery soup; 2/3 cup of milk; 1/2 lb. sharp cheddar grated cheese; 1 tsp. salt; 1/4 tsp. pepper; 1 tsp. dry mustard; 1 lb. can pink salmon; 2 tbsps. Parmesan cheese. Thaw peas slightly to separate, cook and drain macaroni, saute onion in margarine, add soup and cheese, milk, spices. Mix well, separate salmon into chunks, do not remove bones, combine peas, macaroni, sauce and mix gently to blend, pour into 2 quart casserole. Sprinkle cheese on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes. Serves 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Grummett and Drew of Toronto spent the week-end with the Gordon Dawkins at the cottage.

There were two baptisms at Minden United Church last Sunday. They were Jennifer Nichole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ian Minto; Mitchell Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson.

Have you visited the Sandalwood Shop on the main street of Minden? If not do go in and see them. They show the friendly spirit of the town, and have many lovely items for you to look at.

Dorothy McCallum and Marjorie Dawkins of Lindsay visited with their aunt, Mrs. Ethel last week.

Everyone should like history. Last week Mrs. Cox went on a school trip with her granddaughter and relived the history she taught when she was a teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hooper of Ottawa visited relatives in the area and attended the 50th Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wruth.

Our grandson is still in the hospital in Halifax, but is now in a body cast which goes one way as he goes the other. The Doctors there say he will have to live with the bad vertebrae the rest of his life. We are not giving up though, for if possible we will bring him to Ontario for help. I thought you might like to know.

Adios and take care now.

Carnarvon News

Murray Walker underwent hip surgery in Oshawa General recently and we send best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rogers of Sarnia were at their cottage on Boskung Lake over the week-end.

Bill McKay went up to his cottage on Mattagami Lake over the week-end. Jan, who has been up there for a couple of weeks, will be back home too sometime on Monday.

St. Peter's Church, Maple Lake, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday when Heather, daughter of Phil and Grace Renouf was married to Ken, son of Ray and Ruth Griffin. A reception and dance for close friends and relatives followed at Wig-a-Mog. The happy couple left for a honeymoon on Montego Bay, a gift from the bride's father. Congratulations to you both.

Gordon Allcorn attended the wedding of his granddaughter Susan, daughter of Phil and Marg Allcorn in Toronto on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. M.B. Windsor also attended the wedding.

On Saturday the 29th, family and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greg Bishop in Haliburton to help Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnhart celebrate 25 years of marriage. Congratulations and many more anniversaries.

Lords and ladies invited to King's supper

Lords and ladies, His Royal Highness, King Henry VIII and his lady Katherine invite you to attend an evening "in court".

While comfortable dress is encouraged for this fun and frivolous medieval evening, subjects of the kingdom are reminded they will be in the presence of the monarchy and are requested to act accordingly.

The king and his lady wish their guests to arrive at Chateau Woodland at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, for a sampling of the kingdom's best grain and grape. At 7:30 p.m. his highness' beefeater will begin filling the lords and ladies into the main dining hall, in anticipation of the upcoming feast.

King Henry and Lady Katherine will arrive at dining hall to officially welcome their guests at 8 p.m. Lords and ladies will be selected by the royal pair to act as lords and ladies of the court for the evening. (For those not named to the high honour, wenches and jesters are plentiful to help liven the festivities).

The King and his lady are known for the risque situations that inevitably occur at their formal dinners but insist that it's all in fun and good taste.

While the lords and ladies of the court are eating their meal in traditional medieval style, the cast of the Dick Turpin Players will be rollicking among the masses.

Lords and ladies wishing to be in the presence of their highnesses should be prepared to participate in any activity at the King's whim. (Stocks are provided for those uncooperative citizens of the kingdom).

His royal highness, lady Katherine and the members of their court have offered to entertain the people from the kingdom to aid the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts. Each person is required to pay $25 to enjoy the presence of the king and the riotous evening of entertainment.

A portion of the money raised by the evening will be utilized as general funds by the Guild. Tickets can be purchased at the Rails' End Gallery.

Galway / Cavendish minutes

At its most recent meeting, Galway / Cavendish council considered the following:

Ralph Butts attended the meeting to present his proposal for establishing a water ski course on Crystal Lake. Butts advised that he will be making a formal application to the Department of Transport for a license and would appreciate receiving a formal written support from the Municipality. Butts also advised that he is required to obtain approval of all property owners within one mile of the proposed course, which he is in the process of completing with over 90 per cent support received to date and only six ratepayers yet to contact.

The Municipality supported Butts' request to establish a water ski course on Crystal Lake, lot 31, Concession 11, Galway, subject to all Ministry of Transport and Ministry of Natural Resources requirements being satisfied.

Lynn Ferrill attended the meeting to present his proposed severance application to council for their perusal and direction prior to formal submission.

Councillor Nokes will view the proposed severance application submitted verbally by L. Ferrill lot 17, Concession 3, Cavendish and submit his recommendations to council at the next regular meeting.

Minutes of the 66 foot shoreline road allowance committee meeting of May 8, 1982, were approved as presented.

Don Ebbs, representing Mrs. K. Davis who submitted her application for the purchase of the 66 foot shoreline road allowance, attended the meeting to review the survey and proposed building application, to assist council in understanding the reasoning behind the extension of the east side lot line. After reviewing the survey and application council decided that K. Davis' application for the 66 foot shoreline road allowance on Concession 8, lot 23, Cavendish as defined in unregistered Plan dated December 9, 1981, prepared by W.A. Beninger Ontario Land Surveyor be approved.

Happy Gang News

that they arrested Susan Nelles and charged her with murder without sufficient investigation. Everyone is in too much of a hurry and speed now dominates our society and may the devil help any resulting victim. Even traffic offenders are treated gently lest they be innocent.

Looting the loot has become quite a game in Canada and because loot is becoming scarcer the looters are becoming more bare faced. It cannot be disclosed what salaries any company executives are taking of the company loot. We are told that the salaries of M.P.'s are, but because of government secrecy we have no way of knowing if they are telling the truth so the Trudeau shrug is the only clue we have. Behind the shrug it could be a million or more yearly. Companies furnish their shareholders with reports which because of the legalese jargon only a lawyer can read, and even if we pay he is not allowed to tell us how much loot the looters get. The company unions are no better informed, leading to a continuing smoldering rebellion.

The floral display is going very well, especially the climbers, morning glories, sweet peas and scarlet runner bean. All three will climb together up a trellis not yet strung but planned for that whole front as you go in from ground to roof using a very strong polyfilament plastic that we hope the plant tendrils can fasten to. Then we have those box planters on the patio now all planted with their quota, a single balsam centre surrounded by white alyssum and button box zinnias. At each of the four corners is a marigold. All these plants have a very good start. The muskmelons are also ready for ground planting as we did a year ago and with garbage bag plastic laid down instead of hoeing that cannot be profitably done with the melons.

In the midst of this gardening activity Thursday noon a group of us were transported to the Dysart Community Centre banquet facility to meet with the Haliburton Senior Citizens' club and on arrival, were warmly greeted by Les Hughes, the club president. It was one of the delightful pot luck dinners served buffet except the tea or coffee both of which were very good. Before we were seated at the president's request, a former member, Rev. Amos Brubacher, said grace, then filling our plates at the buffet tables we all sat down to eat. Just by listening it is amazing how much good information one can pick up at these gatherings. Thanks for the invitation from the good senior citizens of Haliburton area.

We managed to identify the visitor who left the rhabarbar roots as Violet Hudson and now we can report that every one of the six roots are rooted.

The Rev. John Smith of the Lakeside Baptist Church in Haliburton and Edna Emerson of Waterloo (a visitor) conducted the devotional period Friday morning. The theme, God's great mercy is taken from the book of Isaiah ch. 55, one of the greatest chapters that exhorts us to "seek ye the Lord while he may be found". It was nice to have Rev. Smith to pour the tea or coffee for us at the after service snack when we were treated to more orange cake with chocolate topping.

In the afternoon were three movies: 1. 'The Ride' depicting a very wealthy business man and his quite absent minded chauffeur out on an outing when the boss was placed on a magnificent toboggan that teetered down a five mile steep decline. Once it started spontaneously it wrecked many a near miss. Later the limousine took off on another ride. It was comic because no one was hurt. 2. 'Marsailles on the Riviera' with much grandeur to see. As you tour your neck keeps craning lest you miss some sights. 3. 'The Partridge Tournen' depicting a young couple window shopping in what might be called a flea market. A partridge tournen turning as the narrative unfolded.

Some out planting was done Saturday; more bed flower plants, some cherry tomatoes, and musk melon. The trellis was strung and it looks nice.

further period of two years until June 10, 1984.

Council instructed its planner to prepare an amending by-law to rescind By-law 80-14.

The draft by-law to amend By-law 79-14 with respect to Redstone Pines Inc., was forwarded to the solicitor for Redstone Pines Inc. for comment prior to further consideration by Council.

Jack and Doris Price were advised that Council will consider an application for amendment to By-law 79-14 with respect to Application for Consent H53/81.

Totten Sims Hubicki Associates Ltd. was requested to submit a quotation for consolidation of By-law 79-14 and By-laws amending By-law 79-14 to date.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were advised that there are no funds available in the current year for surveying and closing the original allowance for road abutting Lot 7, Con. 5.

The Reeve and Clerk were authorized to sign a Listing Agreement with Bowes and Cocks Ltd. for properties as shown on the document for a term to end August 31, 1982.

Council applied for Municipal Action '85 programme for reimbursement for staff training.

Queen's Park

considered, the new money actually destined for the program may only amount to $10-$12 million.

The $5 million offered to farmers to improve their farmstead is the last thing that a farmer struggling to survive without the funds to plant this year's crop is thinking of.

The long-awaited young farmers program which we in the Liberal Party have been demanding for years now is mentioned but only offers hope for the future. We need a low interest long-term provincial loan program to encourage young farmers to get into farming now.

The Ontario Veterinary College, the only one of its kind in Ontario is presently in danger of losing its accreditation and possibly its license to teach because of lack of government financial assistance. Yet there is no commitment in this budget for funds to assure its survival.

The measures contained in this budget will do nothing to help Ontario farmers finance the large amount of capital requirements needed to operate their farms. What is desperately required is a low interest subsidy program at affordable rates for consolidated farm debt.

The agriculture industry outlook for this year is cause for alarm. Measures contained in this budget will do nothing to change that forecast.

"He's got the whole world in his hands". We thank you for wandering in, and look forward to when you'll come wandering up this way, and wander in again.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of the Horticultural Society this lovely May day put on the tea party, and also brought a lovely birthday cake for those who had birthdays in May.

We had also planned a farewell party for Jerry McKelvey, who, by the way, is leaving us.

"Dear Jerry, since you have been with us for such a long time, we took up a collection, and got a beer stein. We also have some real ready dough, and we all are so sorry that you have to go. You've worked here for years, a jack-of-all-trades, got along real well with especially the maids. We hope your new business will be a success, with lots of customers you'll surely be blessed. This is the wish from all here at the Crest.

A member of the Kinsmen Club put on the Bingo here last night. They play the way they have been doing every Thursday night. We thank you for coming, and doing the job right.

It was sing-song time again this Friday afternoon. Our girls came one half hour early to get away real soon.

Grace Coburn lives just across the way - Norma Baron lives in town. They always come each Friday, and never let us down.

The country is so lovely since we got the rain. The grass that was turning really brown is greening up again, and the nurses flowers for which they worked so hard, are coming on so blooming fast, they soon will fill the yard.
